

We are very aware that you would have had an opportunity to further develop your Road Safety and practical bike riding skills, during the summer term. Unfortunately, this is no longer possible in school, so we have created this unit of work to help you with the theory and develop your understanding, whilst you are at home.

Included in this pack is a copy of The Tales of The Road - A Highway Code for Children.

You should start off by reading this carefully as it is full of lots of important information about Road Safety.

There is also a very important safety poster which reinforces information regarding clothing, cycling during the day and night and checking your bike.

There are 3 activities for you to complete after you have read the Tales of The Road and understood the key messages on the safety poster:

- On your bike highway code.
- Junctions and crossings.
- Are you a cycle-safely-superstar?

Answers for the activities are also included inside the pack.

This is an important part of your PSHE Curriculum, we hope you enjoy completing the activities.

Have fun and let us know how you have got on through the class email links.
